

GALLAGHER

GALLAGHER EVELIUS & JONES

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

Sarah Hernandez

Associate

p: 410.951.1430

shernandez@gejlaw.com

Sarah Hernandez is a member of Gallagher's Real Estate and Business Transactions and Tax Credit Investments Groups. She represents investors, syndicators, and developers of real estate projects utilizing state and federal low-income housing tax credits.

Sarah graduated from the University of Baltimore School of Law in 2020, summa cum laude. She earned her undergraduate degree from the Pennsylvania State University in 2015, where she double majored in International Politics and Spanish.

During law school, Sarah was a Production Editor for the University of Baltimore Law Review, a member of the Women's Bar Association, the Vice President of the Business and Tax Law Association, and a Research Assistant for Professor Kimberly Wehle. She is fluent in Spanish.

Articles and Presentations

Author, "Dying to Get in, Dying to Get High: Examining the Role of Proximate Cause in Criminal Hazing and Drug-Induced Homicide Cases", Vol. 55 of the Criminal Law Bulletin (2020).

Civic and Charitable Service

- CreateU Network, Board of Directors (2021-2023)

Background

Area(s) of Practice

- Real Estate and Business Transactions
- Tax Credit Investments

Bar Admissions

- Maryland

Education

- University of Baltimore School of Law, JD, 2020, summa cum laude
- Pennsylvania State University, 2015

218 North Charles Street, Suite 400, Baltimore, MD 21201

Telephone: 410.727.7702

Fax: 410.468.2786

Email: info@gejlaw.com